A fishing party went up to the Canadian near Logan Sunday but the catch was not worth mentioning, so we will refrain to give the names of those who composed the party.

$1.00 REWARD will be paid for the information which will lead up to the recovery of three geese which disappeared from the warehouse near the depot a few days ago. Call at this office.

I. McLaren was in from the Quay neighborhood Monday on business and delivered groceries to some of the people of that locality who were too busy to come to town.

Miss Ralls of Atoka, Okla., came in Saturday night to remain a few months with her brother, E. Paul Ralls, who has been assisting E. Pack in the office of County School Superintendent.

LOST—Pair of glasses, somewhere between Tucumcari and Chas. Brown's ranch. Finder please leave same at this office and receive reward. 2t

Vern Newman came in from Las Vegas last Friday in his Overland. He made the trip in 8 hours and 30 minutes and reports the roads very good. He came by the way of the Hick's ranch to Cuervo.

Messrs. and Mesdames Pearson and Putman went to Cuervo Sunday and visited Mrs. Putman's father, Dr. Sanford, who is practicing in that locality. They report a very rough road between Montoya and Newkirk but went through in good time.

FOR SALE—Old Trusty 150-egg incubator. Call phone 152J2.

C. H. Rhodes, Claim Agent, whose home is in El Paso, passed through here Tuesday on his way home from Amarillo where he had been on business. He spent the day visiting his cousin, County Treasurer, Lee G. Pearson.

Sam Lehrman was passing out his "Safety-First Fly Swatters" Tuesday and the advertisement was making a hit with those who chanced to get one, and we hope they will continue to make a "hit" because that is what they were made for.

Mr. Earl Frost of Bard and Miss Mary Baker of Endee were married at the home of the Baptist pastor, Rev. Sam D. Taylor, Wednesday evening. The News joins the many friends in extending congratulations to the new married couple.

Miss Mionette Sandusky, one of Tucumcari's popular young ladies, who has been attending college since last October, at Georgetown, Texas, returned Tuesday evening and will remain during the summer vacation, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sandusky.

New Sample Grand Piano for sale at a bargain. Call and see it. BLITZ, The Jeweler

The town is full of strangers this week. Many of them are here from the east with a view to locating and we are sorry they came just as the sun are so near the earth and we have been having the hottest weather we have had for a long time. Some of these people seem to think it is nice here. Maybe it is but we would hate to go where they came from.

The ball game Sunday at the local diamond between Tucumcari and a picked team from the plains under the name of Jordan, was a very good exhibition and resulted in a score of 11 to 5 in favor of Tucumcari. The visitors were gentlemanly and put up a real good game and with a little more practice in team work they will make our boys play a better game than that played Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Cade, who lives near House, was in the city Saturday on his way to Topeka, Kansas, where he intends to spend most of the summer taking medical treatment in hopes of restoring his health. He was in Tucumcari a few weeks last summer and thought he was relieved to a certain extent, of his ailment, but he was told that a lower altitude was necessary to gain the best results and he concluded to try it before it was too late.

J. F. Seaman was here this week from Gila, N. M., looking after his property interests. He has charge of the books in a large mercantile establishment in that place. While in town he called at News office and ordered this paper sent to him for a year. Mr. Seaman claims to be a resident of Tucumcari although he has been located in Gila for several months. He looks hale and hearty and is the picture of health.

Ferguson of Troy will be at the Opera House Friday night under the auspices of the B. P. O. Elks.

Mr. John L. Pring and Miss Monte Pearson were married at the home of the Baptist pastor, Rev. Sam D. Taylor, last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Woods accompanied them from Quay where they will make their future home. John is the store-keeper at that place and intends to reopen as soon as possible. He suffered the loss of his stock of goods last week, but this did not stop his desire to get married and settle down. Accept our congratulations.

One thing John Pring was not familiar with was the purchasing of a marriage license. He had two pelts burned when the store burned and he figured this would be a good time to trade them to the county. He asked Mr. Coplen, deputy clerk, if he would sign an affidavit that these pelts were burned how much boot he would have to pay to secure a marriage license. Mr. Coplen told him a dollar and the trade was made, but Mr. Coplen did not require him to sign up for the pelts. There is no doubt John would have bought the license a long time ago if he had known they were so cheap.

Call the News Printers when you need letterheads, envelopes, etc.

Henry J. Wofford left Tuesday for Burton, Kansas, in response to a telegram which informed him that his father was nearing death. Mr. Wofford was out in the country when the message came but lost no time in leaving for his father's bed-side.

Messrs. Eager, Collins, Owens and Smith fishing party returned home last Friday evening from the mountains near Las Vegas. They had a splendid trip and caught a number of fish in the Las Vegas lake with a net operated by an expert who is hired for that purpose. The mountain rivers were too swift and cold to do very much good with a hook and line, so they made friends with the Las Vegas Hunting and Fishing Club and were royally entertained.

The county commissioners are still hearing kicks from those who don't fully understand the new mode of assessment, which was forced on the assessors by the state legislature, and now a few of them are blaming the local officials for doing what they supposed was their duty. Everything is being satisfactorily adjusted so far as the commissioners can do it. It now depends on the action of the state board who heretofore has not been very merciful to the residents of the eastern part of the state.

Let Hall figure your painting and papering and you will never go wrong. Phone 178.

The fire boys have been accorded a part of their desires by the city council. They asked for additional hose with which to fight fire and the council at its regular meeting Friday night voted to allow the purchase of 350 feet of hose which will cost $400. More is promised later, but the boys are glad to know that their services are appreciated and nothing is being left undone to make everything congenial. A new barn will be built in a short time to house the city team and fire-fighting apparatus.

Norman McDonald, who came here with his wife a few months ago, died Monday night from tuberculosis. He was in bad condition when he arrived but improved some the first two weeks giving his wife some hopes for his recovery. He started a steady decline about a month ago and his death has been momentarily expected for several days. The remains were sent to his former home in Kansas where they were interred. Mrs. McDonald will probably return to this city in a short time to rest up and regain her health.

Ferguson of Troy will be at the Opera House Friday night under the auspices of the B. P. O. Elks.

W. H. Salyers and family left Tuesday morning for south Missouri where Mr. Salyers traded for a small tract of land. He has been in the blacksmith business for a number of years here and proved up on his claim a few months ago. Mr. Salyers claimed the country did not agree with his health and for sometime complained that his stomach was to blame and the only remedy was a change of climate, so he sold out everything he had and shook the dust from his feet and together with two good teams and wagons he bid farewell to New Mexico vowing he would never return to its soil again. We wish them success in their new location.

The street carnival which has been operating on the vacant lot north of the Vorenberg Hotel, has been doing a good business and shows that the people are anxious to have some place to spend the evenings. Tucumcari needs a band, it doesn't make much difference what kind of a band, but just any old thing will beat the band we now have. We would like to see a good band organize and hold regular weekly concerts this summer. We have more natural musicians than any town our size in the west and with a little encouragement a band could be organized that would make us feel proud to own as the Tucumcari Band. A nice park with seats and a band stand would take about as well as any thing these summer evenings.

If you want milk, buttermilk and cream telephone Gentry. He makes two deliveries each day.

S. H. McElroy, who owns the best residence on South Adams street is not satisfied with that distinction, so he has contracted with W. T. Freeburg to pebble-dash his adobe home. We suppose this means that some of his neighbors will have to do likewise but those who do not have adobes are wondering what to do since the banks are pretty strict about letting out the "apondulix" which is necessary to put the blocks into the wall and hire the carpenters and masons to finish the job. What's the use to worry; if you don't have property your taxes do not worry you; if you own property you don't have any use for the man who suggested the idea of paying a tax to run the government, schools, etc. Maybe some day we will have the fun of seeing our rich brothers divide with us.
